

THE FOUR SEASONS OF CINCINNATI

By Sarah

A vibrant, close-up photograph of a field of wildflowers. In the foreground, a white daisy with a yellow center is in sharp focus. To its left, a purple flower is partially visible. Below the daisy, a pink flower with a yellow center is in bloom. The background is filled with more flowers, including yellow and white ones, and tall green grass, all slightly out of focus. The sky is a clear, bright blue.
